Expert chooses Inferno Sound Barrier

To complete its active burglar protection the electrical retailer Expert has chosen to equip shops and stores with the patented soundbarrier/alarm siren Inferno from the Swedish manufacturer Indusec AB.

“Inferno is a very cost effective solution that easily strengthens existing solutions”, says Cesar Barrios, Security Manager Expert. “The Inferno sound is unbearable och even with hearing protectors communication between the perpetrators is impossible. In our most exposed places the Inferno Sound Barrier is combined with the flash light Strobe and Protect` s security smoke system.

“The combination of Inferno Sound Barrier and Strobe flash light showed to be the perfect combination for Expert”, says Johan Sandberg MD Indusec. “Once again has Inferno proven to be a superior complement to existing alarm systems”.

Indusec is the world leader in high efficiency and advanced audio security products. The products are marketed under the name of Inferno and are installed at places or objects where a high security level is wished.

Expert is an electrical retailer with 230 shops in Sweden. The shops turnover is about 4 billion SEK. Swedish Expert is part of the nordic group with a total of 1000 shops in Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland and Estonia. The groups owner Expert ASA in Norway has a turnover about 14.5 billion SEK.
